Owen Morris

Article written on November 9, 2022

This week I got to interview our very own cross-country star, Owen Morris. This sophomore star looked forward to having fun with people from Sigourney, which is where our Cross Country team meets this season. His goal for this season was shortening down his time by a few minutes. His ultimate achievement for this sport would be to make it to State. He enjoys the van rides back from practices. His motto is "run Forrest run." His favorite memory is the Taytum bell falling at one of the first practices. We hope this season went well for Owen and he has a great rest of the school year.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

Sprouse is swinging his way to success

BY DALTON DODD
THE EAGLE'S WING

Caden Gage Sprouse was born on March 22, 2005. Caden is the son of Jeff and Molly Sprouse. He has three siblings: Raigan, Addison, and Carson. Caden is the youngest in his family. Caden can often be referred to as "Boomer," "Boom Kat," and "Boom."

When Caden was a child his favorite memory was going to Iowa State games. Caden's favorite memory from his birthday parties is when his classmates would come over and they would stay up all night and be running around the town in the a.m. hours. Boomer's favorite teacher in elementary school was Mr. Rod Hill because he remembers the most about sixth grade and he is now his high school golf coach.

When Caden was in elementary school he enjoyed playing tackle football at recess, even when he was not supposed to.

Boomer's favorite family tradition is going to Iowa State football games because his family has had season tickets every year, as well as his grandparents. Caden's parents inspired him to have passion and dedication in their everyday lives and he admires their will to help others. The accomplishments that Caden is most proud of are serving as the Student Body President and FBLA president.

Caden has been involved in many extra curricular activities throughout high school. He has been involved in basketball, baseball, golf, speech, student council, FBLA, FFA, and basketball manager. Of all his activities, Caden enjoys golf the most. He loves the competition and the coach. Caden has a lot of hobbies. He enjoys playing golf, playing billiards, raising sheep, collecting toy tractors, cheering on the Iowa State Cyclones, and being a college sports fanatic.

After high school, Caden intends on attending Indian Hills Community College to major in Ag Business. He picked this major because there are many jobs in that career and he loves the industry. Also, Indian Hills is very close and convenient for him. He then wants to transfer to Iowa State because it has a great atmosphere, and Ames is just "built different," he said.

Caden has worked as a farm-hand for multiple different people throughout high school. When he was working, he had many responsibilities. He would clean grain bins, clean show barn pens, and do chores in a few hog barns. He also has his own flock of sheep. These experiences help Caden learn to work efficiently and do his best work.

In Caden's lifetime he wants to take care of his wife, own a McDonald's franchise, and have a great steady job. The qualities that will help him achieve these goals are dedication, loyalty, and an attentive personality. In ten years Caden sees himself married, having a stable job, playing golf in his free time, and possibly hanging around this area.

The class Caden enjoyed most in high school is Entrepreneurship with Mr. Whitten. "He is always teaching me or giving me new life advice everyday," Caden said. The class that has prepared Caden thinks the most for the future is Personal Finance. Caden liked this class because money management is very important.

The thing Caden loves about KHS is that he has the chance to be involved in everything, and knowing everyone helps the KHS experience go easy. Caden will miss the staff at KHS the most, as well as watching all of the activities. When asked if he could go back and do high school again what he would do differently he replied, "I wouldn't change a thing."

Caden wants to tell future KHS seniors that hard work will take you a long way. "You don't have to be a genius," he said. "If you work hard it will pay off."

Mr. Whitten said that he will miss Caden's pretty positive attitude. He also likes Caden's smile that he brings to all of the classes that Mr. Whitten has with him.

The Eagle's Wing Staff would like to wish Caden good luck on the rest of his senior year and beyond.
